MPOAC Legislative Newsletter

02/29/2020

Overview

Happy Leap Day on this Saturday! Today is a great day to get out and enjoy the sunshine, it is probably not a good day to check the balances in your investment accounts. It has been a rough week in the stock market thanks to fears over the potential impacts of the coronavirus. Thankfully the rough week was in the stock market and not in Florida transportation. In fact, it has been a relatively smooth week for transportation in the legislative world. The legislature wound down this week with a slow Thursday and Friday as Tallahassee transitioned into the weekend. We are now two weeks from what is supposed to be the end of session. At this time there aren't any panic alarms being sounded about the budget even though the two chambers have not settled on identical budgets. This is hopefully a sign that all parties see the differences as minor and something that can be easily resolved. A budget topic that has received a lot of attention from local governments is the Sadowski Housing fund. The Governor and Senate propose funding it fully while the House proposes to sweep funds from it. If it is fully funded, it will be the first time in many years. Several bills are lingering out there and during the last two weeks is when bills start really moving. Getting a bill passed is not an easy process, it is one that takes effort and part of that effort is getting a bill through committee stops. Getting through committees takes time and so we are now seeing bills that have exited the committee process are ready for a full floor vote of their chamber. Several bills in the back section of this newsletter are up for floor votes.

What are some of the issues circulating? This is a topic covered generally each week in the newsletter, here are some of the issues/bills to watch, even though they don't necessarily impact transportation. Letter grades for counties and cities was proposed, school board term limits seems to be moving along, delaying when solar farms will hit tax rolls for county property tax collections is a hot topic, no surprise to anyone following this legislative session is a mention of E-verify, a suggestion to raise the $200K cap on sovereign immunity has made cities and counties anxious, a potential Seminole Tribe gambling compact is floating out there, the potential merger of higher education institutions has rocked the world of Florida's two smallest public universities and expanded school vouchers made an appearance.

Local Officials and MPOAC Board Members - One topic I left off the list in the previous paragraph are the bills regulating short-term vacation rentals. Think AirBNB and VRBO websites. This topic was the hot topic at the weekly lunch of local governments I attend. Since my reading audience, especially my board members, are members of local governments devoting some space to this issue which is important to local governments is a good use of ink. The Governor stated that this issue should be handled locally and many ears in Florida were pleased to hear the Governor support local governments. The bill has passed the House but in the Senate this bill can be stopped. A suggestion is to have the regulation and inspection of units handled at a local level and the regulation of the digital platforms handled at a statewide level. If you are a local official, you would be allowed to apply and enforce local regulations on units being rented out. Noise complaints could be handled by your law enforcement, inspection of units could be handled by your staff. If you want to retain local control over short-term rental units in your municipality or county, call your Senator to politely state that you wish to handle enforcement and inspection of short-term rentals and the digital platforms of these companies should be regulated by the state. The Florida League of Cities and Florida Association of Counties both want to retain control locally of short-term rentals. It was also strongly suggested that calls go into the Governor's office thanking him for his stance. The opposition is certainly pressuring the Governor to walk back his comments about leaving local control over short-term rentals. Please give this serious consideration, even better would be a couple of phone calls.

As we approach the end of session committees are winding down. A pair of bills we have been watching closely are the mid-block crossing bills and it seems that our discussions with the bill sponsors about the costs of this legislation has helped. Thank you all for your help in identifying the number of mid-block crossings in your areas, that information was very helpful. As we go forward, and to be good partners, we need to work with FDOT and our legislative delegations to come up with a way to address mid-block crossing safety and preserve our budgets simultaneously. This will be an "off-season" project for us.

At the opening of this newsletter was mention of the coronavirus. The Governor held a press conference about the topic this week and stated that Florida is preparing for the arrival of the coronavirus. Thankfully, as of the news late yesterday, there are no confirmed cases in Florida. Late yesterday the Miami Herald published some specific information, 15 persons have been tested and 150 are being monitored for coronavirus in Florida. The Governor met with Vice-President Pence who has been given the task of leading the national effort to address coronavirus in the U.S. Sales of Corona beer are down since the coronavirus has made the news. I will leave the jokes to your imagination.

Wrapping up this week's newsletter we must share a compliment with Senator Lee who has the ability to always say something witty and use that wit to concisely present his thoughts. At the Tuesday meeting of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation, Tourism and Economic Development he presented SB 7054, the Transportation Bill. He opened by shared that this was the department's legislative package and that he is working to keep it down to non-controversial things given the historically low probability of passing. It was a bit of a shock to hear him say the last part but it elicited a subdued chuckle in the room and seemed to put everyone at ease with the bill. The bill passed easily, compliments to Senator, and past Senate President, Lee.

We are watching for transportation related bills coming up next week. The regular session began on January 14th, ends (hopefully) on March 13th and for these times in between these dates our capitol is a busy place. Bills appearing before a committee or on the floor are shown in the bill details in RED. All new bills and any updates to bills shown below will be shown in RED so you can quickly distinguish between updates and old news.
